Clients benefit from Jon Bell's extensive litigation experience, especially when faced with complex commercial litigation.

Jon has extensive motion, application, trial and appeal experience before all courts in Ontario, as well as a number of administrative and regulatory boards and tribunals, in matters pertaining to securities regulatory and enforcement matters, internal investigations, shareholder and partnership disputes, directors' and officers' liability, professional negligence, product liability, domestic and international arbitration, oppression proceedings and class proceedings, among others.

Jon has extensive experience in managing the unique e-discovery and record management challenges of complicated litigation. He has presented to peers at professional conferences as well as to a number of industry and professional organizations on how corporate litigants can best address the new challenges of the e-discovery age.

Jon was named a 2019 Lexpert Rising Star for being one of Canada's leading lawyers under 40. He has also been named Benchmark's Emerging Talent of the Year (2019) and a Rising Star in the area of Litigation in Expert Guides' LMG Rising Stars (2016, 2017 and 2018).

Jon [Bell] and Cheryl [Woodin], their qualifications speak for themselves. I had high expectations, their responses were great. They were responsible, able to be solutions-oriented. Fair to say they made us feel like their only client and a priority.
